Big Write-In Count Listed
For Incumbent

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—(UP)—Sen. Royal S. Copeland, Tammany Hall's candidate for both the Democratic and Republican mayoralty nominations, was overwhelmingly defeated in yesterday's municipal primary, incomplete returns indicated today.

Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia had almost a 2 to 1 lead over Copeland in the Republican primary, and Jeremiah T. Mahoney was leading in the Democratic primary by approximately the same margin.

Huge Write-In Recorded

La Guardia polled a huge write-in vote in the Democratic primary, that was expected to exceed 50,000. Incomplete returns:
Republican primary:
La Guardia, 68,700
Copeland, 39,116
613 election districts missing out of 3,797.
Democratic primary:
Mahoney, 342,149
Copeland, 184,637
La Guardia (not a candidate), 45,785.
600 election districts missing out of 3,797.

The "write-in" vote for La Guardia seemed to make it evident that he would get the votes of thousands of Democrats at the general election in November, and his supporters already were declaring that he was assured of another four-year term in city hall.

Three Divide $247,096 Denny Spangler Estate

Widow's Death in Roanoke, Va. Terminates
Trust Established in July, 1926

One resident of Circleville, another of Athens, and a third of Columbus will divide the $247,096.63 estate left by the late Denny E. Spangler, former Circleville resident. Beneficiaries are Mrs. Clara Belle Spangler, of Watt street, Miss Mary R. Spangler of Athens, and Stuart C. Spangler of Columbus.

Mr. Spangler, a brother of the late Noah G. and George H. Spangler, died in Atlantic City July 22, 1926, at the age of 63. The will was probated in Roanoke, Va., his residence, July 30, 1926.

It left the property in trust with the First National Exchange bank of Roanoke which was named as an executor with his wife, Mrs. Irene D. Spangler. Mrs. Spangler died recently.

Mrs. Clara Belle Spangler, daughter of Denny Spangler's late nephew, Ira R., receives three-eighths of the property; Stuart C., a son of Noah G., receives a similar amount, and Miss Mary Spangler, daughter of George H., will be given two-eighths of the property. The will directed that the trust be terminated at the death of his widow and the trust estate be delivered in fee simple to the three relatives.

Mr. Spangler's will directed that $500 be paid to the trustees of Forest cemetery, Circleville. Stuart Spangler, who is the guardian for Clara Belle Spangler, has furnished bond of $189,000 in Pickaway county probate court, and Mrs. Mary H. Spangler and Richard Simkins, guardians for Miss Mary Spangler, have furnished $124,000 bond. Both bonds have been approved by Judge C. C. Young.

Denny E. Spangler was a Norfolk & Western railroad official.

HORSE HITS ARCH-ENEMY BY INJURING CAR DEALER

ALTURAS, Calif., Sept. 17.—(UP)—A blow was struck for horsedom against its arch-enemy, the automobile industry, today when a horse broke the leg of a motor car dealer. Howard Doyle, Reno, Nev., was struck on the knee with a heavy timber dislodged when the animal became frightened. Doyle will not be shot.

YOUTH, 7, WOMAN INJURED IN TWO AUTO ACCIDENTS

Cary Blevins, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Blevins 148 York street, and Mrs. R. T. Dennis, 71, of Mt. Sterling, R.F.D., mother of Mrs. Bryce Briggs, N. Scioto street are in Berger hospital for treatment of injuries received in auto accidents.

The Blevins youth was taken to the hospital for observation and X-ray of his right elbow and back. There is a possibility he is suffering from internal injuries. Police said the youth was injured about 4 p. m. Thursday when he jumped on the rear of an auto driven by Harley Brown, of Walnut street, vegetable dealer. The accident was on York street. Brown had warned a group of youngsters not to jump on his car. The Blevins youth is believed to have been hanging on the back of the car and fell off when Mr. Brown backed the auto. He is under the care of Dr. V. D. Kerns.

Mrs. Dennis received a possible fracture of the right shoulder, chest injuries, cuts and bruises Thursday about 1 p. m. when the auto in which she was riding with Mrs. Nellie Baker, of Mt. Sterling overturned in fresh gravel about three miles north of London, O. Mrs. Dennis was given first aid by a physician in London, then brought to Circleville. Mrs. Baker escaped with bruises.

FROST RECORDED AS TEMPERATURE GOES DOWN TO 37

Frost nipped low districts of Pickaway county Thursday night, but no serious damage was reported. The temperature dropped from a high of 73 degrees Thursday afternoon to 37 during the night. Dr. H. R. Clarke, local weatherman, reported.

Farmers arriving in Circleville from various parts of the county reported no serious damage. Employees of Brehmer's greenhouses and the Moeller Greenhouses reported the frost was not "a killing one."

Speaker Bankhead Responds
To Fish's Assertion

LONDON, Sept. 17.—(UP)—Justice Hugo L. Black will sail from Ireland for the United States Sept. 25 with Justice James C. McReynolds, a fellow member of the United States supreme court bench as a fellow passenger, the Manchester Guardian reported today.

Commenting on charges that Black is a member of the Ku Klux Klan, the correspondent asserted that Black had intimated to friends that he would make no statement until he returned home.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—(UP)—The controversy resulting from a newspaper "expose" alleging that Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black is a life member of the Ku Klux Klan was extended today. Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D. Mont., demanded that President Roosevelt appoint an "impartial board" to investigate.

Senate May Act
Wheeler, who directed the successful campaign against the president's supreme court enlargement proposal, declared that if Mr. Roosevelt failed to act, "the senate should do so."

"If the charges made are true, the president should ask for his (Black's) resignation," he said in a statement telegraphed to Washington from Fargo, N. D.

Wheeler said he withheld his vote when the senate confirmed Black's nomination, because there had been no denial of a charge made in the senate that Black was a Klansman.

The controversy had spread earlier among members of the house of representatives, and to Speaker William H. Bankhead, who declared at his Jasper, Ala., home:

"I have never belonged to the Ku Klux Klan. I never was invited to join. That is that."

Bankhead's statement was a reply to Rep. Hamilton Fish, R. (Continued on Page Eight)

Explorers Locate Life Signs on 'Sky-Island'

GRAND CANYON, Ariz., Sept. 17.—(UP)—A party of explorers reported today that it has found "unmistakable evidences" of animal life on an "island in the sky", 4,600 feet high isolated from other land for 20,000 or more years. This report, one of the most exciting in the annals of natural research, was made by two members of the party that scaled the sheer sides of the "island" yesterday. They were the first men, in living or written memory, to visit it, and, according to scientific conjecture, may have been the first men to have ever touched its soil.

Will Germany Fight for "Breadbasket" Ukraine?

HITLER Hitler's recent speeches indicate that he still looks to the Ukraine, which he termed a "breadbasket" in his book, "Mein Kampf". The Ukraine is a part of Soviet Russia, thus any effort to obtain it would involve Germany in a war. To reach it, Germany would have to overrun Poland or Czechoslovakia. European observers do not believe Germany will attempt it despite talk.

INTEREST IS HIGH AS TIGERS PLAY FIRST NIGHT FRAY

Circleville was somewhat agog Friday as last-minute preparations were being made for the city's first night football game. The high school team plays Groveport tonight under lights that are expected to attract a large throng of spectators.

A few years ago lights on high school football fields were rare. Now many of the most progressive cities in the state have them.

With the construction of the lighting system interest in high school football has grown by leaps and bounds. Many estimate that 1,000 will see tonight's game. The persons watching last night's practice outnumbered crowds that have witnessed afternoon games in several instances.

Red and Black flags lined the streets of the city Friday heralding the opening of the season. The school band will play at the field, and may possibly parade uptown prior to the contest. At 7:40 p. m. Coach Jack Landrum and his athletes will parade onto the gridiron and 20 minutes later the whistle will sound the kickoff signal.

CORN PRICE GOES HIGH AS RESULT OF BUYING RUSH

Corn prices went up two cents on Circleville markets Friday. Yellow corn was listed at 93 cents a bushel, white corn, 98. Wheat was up one cent to 94 cents.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—(UP)—A rush of buying on the part of "shorts" skyrocketed the price of a bushel of September corn to a new season's high today on the Chicago Board of Trade as the exchange fought to prevent a "corner" of the American market.

September futures were quoted at $1.18 1/2 in the latest rush to buy, an advance of 6 1/2 cents for the day. The limit on corn to be delivered this month is eight cents.

A reported fight between Cargill Grain Company of Minneapolis and the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, Chicago, for control of the market has carried the price on the September futures—calling for delivery Sept. 27 of the last remnants of the 1936 crop—from 95c cents on Sept. 1 to today's high, a gain of 17 cents in 15 trading days.

The danger of "shorts"—those traders who sell grain they haven't got in hopes of buying it later at a cheaper price—was that they would be "squeezed" by traders who already hold almost all of the 3,000,000 bushels of old corn remaining.

Italians Snubbed Again By British and French

Powers to Add Surface Ships and Airplanes to Forces
Patrolling Mediterranean in Search of 'Pirates'

GENEVA, Sept. 17.—(UP)—The powers extended their war on "piracy" in the Mediterranean today by deciding to include surface warships and airplanes as well as submarines and at the same time dropped almost all pretense of non-intervention control of Spain.

Britain, France and seven supporting powers adhering to the Nyon agreement against piracy met here and agreed to protocols including surface ships and aircraft in the accord. The meeting adjourned until this evening, when the accord will be signed.

The air and surface accords provide that patrolling ships shall open fire immediately on craft attacking vessels contrary to the London naval accord of 1936. The effect is that any suspicious airplane, surface ship or submarine in the forbidden patrol zone may be liable to attack.

All Must Be Marked
The conference decided that any airplanes, surface vessels or submarines not carrying well-marked identification or flags would be considered pirates and fired on.

The entire day's proceedings, here, in London and Paris, constituted a direct snub to Italy. Announcement was made both in London and Paris of abandonment of the naval patrol of the Spanish coast to prevent munitions from being shipped in.

Britain and France, without awaiting Italy's next move, acted swiftly and in unison. They did not consult Italy, Germany and the other non-intervention powers by calling a meeting of the non-intervention committee, but moved alone.

They thus indicated their solidarity in determining to protect their Mediterranean interests by force if necessary.

The latest action was considered to amount almost to opening the doors to arms traffic into Spain by any power wishing to engage in it.

GOVERNOR READY TO ALTER STATE PARDONS BOARD

COLUMBUS, Sept. 17.—(UP)—Charging that the Division of Probation and Parole has "more or less gone to seed," Gov. Martin L. Davey said today he hoped to make full announcement next week regarding the reorganization of the parole board and parole system in Ohio.

"In the near future," the governor said in a statement, "we will have a strong and respected board."

He warned however, that regardless of its personnel, "there are bound to be a few mistakes of judgment."

The governor said he proposed making a "thorough good job" of reorganizing the parole system. "I feel sure that the program we are developing will meet the best expectations of all interested citizens," he said.

'Dare To Die' Units, Big
Sword Men Battling

BULLETIN

LONDON, Sept. 17.—(UP)—The Chinese embassy issued a statement from the Nanjing office today saying Japanese soldiers massacred 500 inhabitants of Yangchang, China.

BULLETIN

HONG KONG, Sept. 17.—(UP)—The Central (Chinese) News agency reported today that three Japanese gunboats had shelled the Chinese forts near Hailow on Hainan island, 200 miles south of Hong Kong and near the French settlement of Kwangchow on the mainland. It was the first attack on the island. The agency said the Japanese ships retreated when the Chinese batteries replied to their fire.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 17.—(UP)

Chinese, seizing advantage of heavy rains that immobilized Japanese airplanes and tanks, attacked ferociously at key points all along the Shanghai front today. Infantry, "dare to die" units and big sword men smashed at the Japanese lines in the Lotien, Lihang and Aluke sectors. Reports from the front told of savage hand to hand fighting, in which the Japanese, resisting stoutly, called for reinforcements.

Withdrawal Continues

The Chinese continued their gradual withdrawal to a new defensive line. But it had become evident that their retreat was a planned one, as they asserted, for the movement of the scores of thousands of men involved seemed effected with clocklike precision and rear guards challenged the Japanese at point after point.

Exact definition of the present front was impossible because of the contradiction of reports from the Japanese and Chinese headquarters. For instance, both Chinese and Japanese, claimed the town of Lotien and each side insisted that the other held Kwangwan and the international race course near it.

Chinese fortifications for their big defensive stand proceeded on a gigantic scale. Thousands of men were building defenses in the North station section, north of the international settlement and southern point of the new line which extends northward to the Yangtze river. In the Nantao native quarter, on the opposite side of the international settlement and paralleling the French concession, more soldiers and workers started to dig a great trench line as a defense.

WOMAN BECOMES WIFE, WIDOW AND HEIRESS IN DAY

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 17.—(UP)—A Boston stenographer was heiress to nearly $400,000 today as result of a day-old death-bed marriage.

Helen McNulty, 36, of Boston and Melrose, Mass., was married to George H. Hammett, 40, who inherited the fortune of his merchant-father, at Newport hospital Wednesday.

Yesterday Hammett died, leaving $320,000 in personal property and $75,000 in real estate, mostly to his bride. Only other heir is a son by a divorced wife, who will receive a small share. Hammett's father Harry died last May.

Miss McNulty and Hammett met last Spring. He was stricken a month ago and his sweetheart had been almost constantly at his bedside.

When he learned Wednesday he was dying, he called for the Rev. Ernest L. Wismer of Newport's United Congregational church. Miss McNulty was reluctant to consent to a marriage at first, but then consented.

Today the bride—now a widow—was in seclusion with friends.

BURKE, KING TO SPEAK
Vandenberg and Ickes On Schedule

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—(UP)—President Roosevelt, Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes and foes of the administration's defeated judiciary program observe the 150th anniversary of the Constitution today with speeches bearing on the possibility of revival of the supreme court issue.

Sen. William E. Borah, R., Ida., veteran constitutional expert and strategist in the fight against the administration court plan, opened the debate last night with a radio speech in which he declared that an independent judiciary was essential to democracy, and flayed dictatorial tendencies at home and abroad.

"He declared that America would never surrender or compromise that individual initiative which is the crowning characteristic of our people," He assailed those who bend the Constitution to "every political breeze."

President to Speak
The nation-wide observance of Constitution day will be climaxed tonight by President Roosevelt when he goes to the foot of the Washington monument to speak his views on constitutional government. How far the president would go toward indicating his future plans in regard to the judiciary, remained uncertain.

Mr. Roosevelt speaks briefly earlier at Antietam battlefield in Maryland, site of a decisive battle of the Civil War 75 years ago.

Many observers believed that the controversy arising from charges that newly-appointed Associate Justice Hugo L. Black is a member of the Ku Klux Klan would cause the president to avoid direct reference to the court issue. In the last 48 hours Mr. Roosevelt has been spending additional time on the speech, leading to speculation that possibly the Black controversy had resulted in major revisions.

Borah's address was a prelude to three other speeches today by opponents of the president's court plan. Sen. Edward R. Burke, D., Neb., traveled to the Great Black Hills memorial at Mount Rushmore, S. D., where, under the images of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt, he denounced suggestions that the president's judiciary bill would be revised.

Borah Hits Hitler

Borah criticized statements from high German sources that Nazi emissaries in foreign lands must be protected in their activities in behalf of the Hitler regime. As long as they observe the law of this country, he said, they will be protected but if not they will be "tried in independent courts and not in the puppet courts of their homeland" and, if convicted, punished.

WICHITA LEAVES AIRPLANES, OTHER GOODS AT PORT

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Sept. 17.—(UP)—The government-owned freighter Wichita was bound for Manila today without the cargo of munitions and airplanes with which it started out for Hong Kong.

The two cases of revolvers, two cases of cartridges and 19 fast "mail" planes which were readily convertible into Chinese bombers, were unloaded here to avert the first crisis arising from President Roosevelt's ban on transportation of war shipments in government boats.

Capt. John Valentine Redmond, the Wichita's skipper, said the cargo was unloaded on orders from the Roosevelt line, which leased the ship from the government. He said the action was a result of fears that the ship might become involved in far eastern hostilities, and not as a result of the president's embargo.

The Wichita already had started her voyage from Baltimore when the order was made, and shippers believed it was exempt from the embargo.

After the unloading, the ship's course was changed and instead of going to Hong Kong by the shorter "great circle" way through Japanese waters, she will go through the "American corridor" by way of Hawaii, Wake Island and Guam. At Manila, she will unload 9,000 tons of sugar.

There was a shipment of barbed wire still aboard but the skipper said it was "for fences around the Caribou ranches in the Philippines, and not for barbed wire entanglements."

V. F. W. TO NAME OFFICIAL STAFF TUESDAY EVENING

Following additional orders from national headquarters, members of the Cincinnati post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will nominate officers next Tuesday at 8 p. m.

Plans to hold a nomination at the last regular meeting were cancelled after word was received that officers now serving would hold their positions until April, 1938. Under the new arrangements the election will be held in October, installation in November. The new officers will serve until April.

All members are urged to attend the meeting.

ROSS COUNTEAN ARRESTED AFTER CUTTING AFFRAY

CHILLICOTHE, Sept. 17.—Louis Stratton, Route 5, surrendered to Sheriff Joseph Vincent Thursday and denied a charge of cutting with intent to kill his neighbor, Lorenzo Sanford. He was bound to the grand jury under $1,000 bond and committed to the county jail until it was provided.

Sanford suffered a cut across the top of the head that required eight clamps to close; a cut on the left hip requiring 15 clamps; a cut on the left leg that took five clamps; a cut on the right corner of the mouth that was closed with three stitches, a stab wound in the left arm at the elbow; a bite on the right arm, broken nose and a swollen right jaw.

The fight is alleged to have grown out of Stratton's belief that Sanford was attempting to win away Mrs. Stratton. The Strattons have six children, two of them adults.

By invitation of Mayor Margulis, Miss Roberta Cromley was present and played a couple of accordion selections. Committees were appointed to do several things which need doing, among them, the drafting of constitution and by-laws, the old ones seem not to be in evidence. The organization, apparently is functioning fine, with prospects of getting things done which need doing.

Telephone Veteran

One of our former home town boys was here a few days since, and of course we had to give him some of the "third degree stuff" same as the others get. Asked him what he had been doing all these years, and how long he had been at it, and how it all came about that he happened to be a telephone all-around worker. Because he always liked to talk a lot, though he sure would make a great success saying "hello" and most everything else. This was Clarence Swoyer's reason, as he remembered it, why he became a telephone worker. He applied for a job with the Bell Telephone people and they sent him on to Chicago to learn all about how telephone wires were made, and how to fix them when needing repair. Then on to Tacoma, Wash., after spending a year at Chicago. Here he was in for another year. The girls in Tacoma were fine, but Columbus had "just one" that had "em all beat. So he came back home. "hitched up" and has been "telephoning" in Columbus for the last 28 years, 30 in all. He likes his work and hopes to stay to the finish. The Bell people may have some "chaps" just as fine as Clarence but not finer. He is a real booster and gets things done.

Banana and Milk Diet Good for Fall Luncheons

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

WE HAVE come to the season of mists and mellow fruitfulness; the voice of the turtle is no longer heard in the land, and the hum of business indicates less leisurely and perhaps less elaborate luncheons.

For a high school lunch (I do not recommend this for younger children) or college lunch, or business lunch, consider the banana. Long a favorite, perhaps it will comfort you to know that it has solid, scientific, proved nutritional advantages.

First get a ripe banana. You can tell when the banana is ripe by the skin; yellow flecked with brown spots. Many changes have taken place in this banana since it was green. In the green state it has 20 per cent starch and 1 per cent sugar; when ripe it has 18 per cent sugar and 2 per cent starch; most of the starch has been converted into more easily digested and higher energy-containing sugar. The insoluble substance which cements the cells of the green banana together, protofektin, has been converted into a softer form of roughage, pectin. The acids and alcohols of the green banana have been converted in the ripening process into esters, amyloacetate, etc., which give the appetizing aroma.

Bananas have practically no protein and fat, and are therefore ideal for making up a healthy diet. They have vitamins A, B, C, E and G. (No vitamin D.) Minerals present are: calcium, manganese, phosphorus, sulphur, iron and copper.

Source of Energy Bananas are a good source of energy, a good source of calories, they tend to stimulate the growth of the beneficial acid types of bacteria in the intestinal canal, they are blood regenerating, and will digest with little mastication.

Combined with milk, bananas make up an almost completely balanced ration. The milk provides the protein and fat, and possibly the vitamin D. The milk and banana diet of Harrop has been used successfully for reducing. Its virtue is in its simplicity. Here are the instructions for it.

When used as a continuous diet, one or two large bananas are used with a glass (250 cc.) of whole milk for breakfast and for lunch. For the evening meal the same is used if the strict diet is followed (six bananas and three glasses of milk a day); or if the modified diet is followed, the evening meal may consist of a clear soup, a slice of lean meat (fish or fowl), two or three portions of 5 per cent vegetables, a slice of bread and butter, and a portion of uncooked fruit. With the modified plan the diet contains 1,000 to 1,200 calories.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Seven pamphlets by Dr. Clendenning can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Ed Ebert, chairman of the committee on Scout advancement, will preside at the Court which will be held at Troop 158's cabin at Gold Cliff Chateau, four miles south of Circleville.

Many local boys are expected to advance in Scout rank at this time since vacation time and the Summer camp season have provided opportunities to meet many of the requirements, especially those concerning the outdoors. Circleville was well represented at the Council Scout Reservation this season.

The program will be held out-of-doors around a campfire, starting early in the evening. Parents and friends of Scouts are invited to witness the awarding of honors, Ebert said.

The district flag will be awarded to the troop receiving the greatest percentage of awards.

THEATRES

AT THE CLIFTONA Little Buddy Cox, six-year-old cow "boy" from down around Hereford, Texas, where his father and his uncle owned a gigantic cattle ranch, recently arrived in Hollywood with Victor Cox, his dad, who is a veteran rider of bucking horses. But Buddy didn't have to have help from his father or anybody else when it came to getting a role in pictures. Learning that Columbia was casting for the new Bob Allen western, "Rackless Ranger" now showing tonight and Saturday at the Cliftona Theatre, on a double feature program with "Outlaws of the Orient", and that there was a little boy's role in the story, Victor Cox suggested that he might take Buddy down for an interview.

Buddy, who can sing and dance as well as ride a pony and swing a lariat, told his father that he would obtain the interview — and the part, if possible — without any help.

OPEN LETTERS

TO STOOG CLUB

YOUTHS: The praise of all Circleville goes to you and your advisor, Virgil Cress, tonight as the lights are turned on to mark the opening of the 1937 football season. It was your organization that began the drive for a lighting system. The civic leaders who contributed their money to make the lights possible showed you that the idea had merit. Tonight Circleville takes its place among Ohio's most progressive athletic centers. The lighting system means that large crowds will witness the games, because hundreds of persons were not able to get away from their places of business to see afternoon tilts. Football fans should show their appreciation by going to the game, contributing their small fee to help pay for the lighting system and the new uniforms worn by the athletes. In return they will see an interesting engagement. The strength of the 1937 football team has not been determined, but it is certain that an evening of entertainment will be provided.

CIRCUITEER

TO CITY OFFICIALS

GENTLEMEN: Recommendations made by civic organizations in recent weeks concerning violations of traffic laws and more observance of regulations by bicycle riders should be acted on. Disregard for laws on the ordinance book is rampant; motorists pay no attention to parking lines, neither do they exercise care at dangerous intersections. The Rotary Club and the Chamber of Commerce have been active in the last few months by seeking the attention of public officials in their drive to "brush up" on safety. Arresting out-of-town persons will do no good. It is the motorists right here at home who should be educated along the lines of highway safety. The safety committee of council now has the Chamber of Commerce's bicycle regulation request in its hands; I hope the committee takes immediate action.

TO HISTORIANS

RESIDENTS: On Sunday, Oct. 3, the 25th annual Ohio History Day celebration will be held at Logan Elm park, the program starting at 2 p. m. Mark this date on your calendar, and plan to attend. Huge crowds have attended the program in recent years, paying tribute to Chief Logan and his treaty with the white man, and observing the transfer of the park to the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical society. From past experience I would suggest you take a camp chair with you. An interesting and educational program has been arranged for the observance.

CIRCUITEER

TO TRAVELERS

CAR OPERATORS: Motorists must exercise the utmost caution while driving on the highways of the county and state during the time children are being transported to and from school and during the opening and closing hours and at recess. School bus drivers report that many motorists do not stop while school buses load or unload children. The Ohio law reads: "Motorists must stop on our highways (outside municipalities) at least 10 feet from front or rear of school buses loading or unloading children, and must remain stopped until the children reach the nearest adjacent side of the highway." For the greater protection of school children, the state has reduced the speed of motor vehicles while passing school buildings or grounds. The law reads: "Drive 20 miles an hour while passing school buildings or grounds during opening and closing hours and at recess." Ohio transports more children to centralized schools than does any other state. During the school year 1936-37, there were 278,360 children carried to schools in 7,786 buses. Motorists can make Pickaway county and other Ohio highways safe by letting no thoughtless, indifferent or careless act be the cause of the maiming or killing of a child.

TO MOTORISTS

DRIVERS: Your 1937 license expire Sept. 30 and new permits are now on sale. I urge you to visit the office of the deputy registrar now in order to avoid the usual rush. If you expect to get behind the wheel of an automobile you must have a state license. If you are renewing your chauffeur's license it is necessary that you have a recent picture that can be attached to the certificate.

CIRCUITEER

TO HOME FIREMEN

WORKERS: During the recent cool weather many of you started fires in your stoves and furnaces. Before starting your heating systems you should give them a thorough checking. It may prevent a serious fire.

CIRCUITEER

TO ROUNDTOWNERS

FOLK: Another month and Circleville will be celebrating its 34th annual Pumpkin Show. Premium lists are being distributed. Now is the time for residents to start advertising and boosting. Does your car have a show advertisement on it? Officials have distributed advertising materials, but there has been very little of it in use. Directors have added many new features to the celebration. New attractions include a horse-pulling contest, enlarged horse show, Mayor's Night, American Legion Drum corps contest, dog show under regulations of the American Kennel club. Practically all departments have been enlarged. The show is certain to be "Bigger and Better." All it needs is plenty of advertising.

World At A Glance

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

The United States public health service is decidedly on the alert against the danger of cholera's introduction into this country, through our Pacific coast ports, from China.

Luckily the cholera season, so far as the continental U. S. A. is concerned, is passing. It is a warm weather disease. Still, we prefer to have not even a few cases as autumn advances. Besides, Hawaii's climate is such that an epidemic is a possibility there in what is our mainland winter.

And the Japanese troops on Chinese soil are reported already to be suffering seriously from the pest. If hostilities in the Orient continue over into next summer the threat may become really formidable.

CHINESE RESIST IT
Curiously enough, the more cholera the better, from China's standpoint. It may prove to be, in the long run, the Asiatic mainlanders' most effective weapon against Nippon.

The Chinese are not very vulnerable to it. They are more immune, but they are strongly resistant. Not the Japanese, however, Nor Occidentals.

Foreigners in China are particularly free from intestinal complaints, but that is by virtue of the extraordinary precautions they take. The Chinese waive the precautions. They can afford to. They have had cholera germs to combat, for so many generations that their systems simply are saturated with anti-cholera germs for defensive purposes.

GREAT CARE TAKEN
A foreigner in China drinks no water, except that which has been carefully treated, out of bottles. He eats no uncooked vegetables or fruits—and they must be cooked a plenty.

I did, at one time, in Shanghai, eat a few raw strawberries, but there was a chemical concoction. It was guaranteed to kill the germs. All the same, it was not an appetizing performance. I was acceding half to death anyway. I should not have devoured the blamed things if I had not been a guest at a party, where I had to.

One craves this forbidden food, simply because it is forbidden.

NOTHING UNSTERILIZED SAFE

Once my wife and I were having dinner at the Shanghai Palace hotel.

At a nearby table were a couple of friends of ours. They had some raw lettuce. It came from the garden of one of their friends, who watched over that garden with everlasting vigilance, irrigated it with mineral water, thought he KNEW it was germ proof.

It struck these two folk that it would be a charitable act to let us have some of their lettuce. They dispatched a plateful of it to us by a waiter, with a note on the back of a menu card, explaining the circumstances.

My wife proceeded to concoct it into a salad. Along came the hotel manager. He saw what was doing and gave us a reproachful glance, as if recognizing that we were about to commit suicide. My wife enlightened him.

"Indeed!" said the manager. "Well, this hotel has its own vegetable garden, under the strictest European supervision. But I NEVER EAT ANYTHING IT PRODUCES until it has been sterilized."

A DIFFERENCE IN NATURES
The Chinese have a system of fertilizing their crops into which I won't enter. It is disgusting. It may be good for the crops, but it is provocative of intestinal diseases.

It breeds germs. A little breeze comes up and scatters these germs over all sorts of gardens, no matter how strictly they have been Europeanly supervised.

As previously remarked, the Chinese can stand it. The Japanese cannot; they are more sanitary.

It's a sickish subject. Yet it has an important bearing on the war in China.

DEAD RECKONING

By BRUCE HAMILTON

COPYRIGHT BY BRUCE HAMILTON; RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

READ THIS FIRST:

Tim Kennedy has been writing a suicide note to himself in his life's handwriting. He had graduated into a world of homicide from the school of armchair murderers. Tim, who had built up a lucrative dental practice in a small town near London, had done so with great premeditation and planning years before.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:

CHAPTER 4

TIM'S professional efficiency eventually got around, and in particular he acquired a reputation as a painless dentist. For Dentist Jameson had a vein of Scottish stoicism that rendered him impatient with people "making a fuss over nothing"; besides, he was against drugs. And Taylor and Evans, both excellent workmen, were inclined to be a little over-rapid and therefore ungentle in their treatment; they generally had all waiting rooms and were working against time. Yet, so strong is habit that, at a time when his work was being increasingly praised, he gained little ground from his competitors.

Perhaps Kennedy's personality was too unassertive. Shrewdly aware that this was the case, he laid himself out to acquire a good professional manner. He trained himself to chat easily with those patients who liked it, and though he at first found it difficult to combine close work with light conversation, he came to manage it very well. He gained skill in adapting his manner to individual characteristics; he learned how to reassure nervous patients, and how to make a parade of silent efficiency with businesslike ones. He also took to going to church, and here he scored, for Jameson was a Presbyterian, Taylor and Evans were differentists and sabbath-breakers. Kennedy's first big capture was the new rector, and quite a number of church people followed the lead.

The summer of 1914 found his condition and status perceptibly advanced, but he was still a long way from occupying the dominating position he afterwards reached. The real turning point in his fortunes was the Great War. By 1916 two of his rivals had been wiped out—Taylor blown to bits on the Somme, and Evans, attached to a medical unit at Amiens, receiving in an air raid injuries amounting to total disablement.

Kennedy did not rush into khaki. His lung trouble, though by now practically cured, served as an excuse. But in the black year of 1915 the pressure of public opinion became very strong and he applied for and obtained a commission in the ordnance corps. He was by no means deficient in personal courage, but the offer of his services was dictated purely by self-interest. He foresaw that in the years following the conflict a high premium would be placed on a war record, and that a man of military age who could not boast of one would be handicapped professionally. Also, he was aware that the holding of a commission would raise his social status—hitherto negligible—in a way nothing else ever could. He looked well in his uniform, prematurely middle-aged, but quiet and distinguished in his slight, rather trim fashion.

He spent all his leaves in West Shilston, forswearing the delights of wartime London for the sake of impressing himself on the mind of the town in the character of an officer and a gentleman. On these leaves he found himself welcomed and even courted in circles with which he had had no contact before. He accepted this new position as his right, but modestly and without presumption.

In the spring of 1919, immediately after demobilization, he was quietly married to Esther Ashwell.

Esther, the daughter of a gentleman of leisure and race horse

RELIC?

He took her hand into his and gazed proudly at the engagement ring he had placed on her finger only three days before.

"Did your friends admire it?" he inquired, tenderly.

"They did more than that," she replied. "Two of them recognized it."

OWNER IN A SIMILAR WAY, DECEASED OF J. Arkwright, the most considerable medical man in the district, and a very attractive girl in her own right, was about as marriageable a proposition as any mother could hope for; and the marriage could hardly have passed without some scandal and social discomfort a few years before. But Kennedy was by now thoroughly established. He encouraged people to call him Captain Kennedy, but quietly dropped the title at the psychological moment, just before the retention of temporary military honorifics became ridiculous. He took an active part in the organization of the local British Legion; he followed up, with unassuming pertinacity, every contact capable of strengthening his position.

His social advance was paralleled by an equally rapid move forward in his professional standing. Taylor was dead, Evans finished, Jameson dead. The latter, overwhelmed with work in the later war years, had taken a man called Eldian as partner, and the two had carried on until just after the armistice, when Jameson had died of peritonitis. Eldian continued with moderate success, and in 1919 a very young man named Harris started out in the poorer part of the town; he was believed to be struggling.

But the most striking effect of these hazards and changes was that Tim Kennedy was suddenly promoted from junior to senior dentist in the town. Eldian and Harris were newcomers, almost foreigners, but Kennedy was of the pre-war vintage. To his always good reputation he could now add the background of an assured social position; he became beyond challenge THE dentist of West Shilston, and he was able to increase substantially his formerly very modest fees without risk of losing business.

He kept his rooms in High street, but ceased to reside on the premises; he had not spent a single night there after joining the army. The waiting room and living room were knocked into one, and made a very handsome apartment. The surgery was re-equipped and refurnished throughout; new decora-

TIGERS AND GROVEPORT MEET ON LIGHTED FIELD AT 8 THIS EVENING

Dress Rehearsal

The stage was set Friday for the first night football game in Circleville history between the Red and Black Tigers and the speedy Groveport varsity. Game time is 8 p. m.

Workmen started early Friday to stretch fence along the north and east sides of the field, to complete erection of bleachers sufficient to seat 750 fans, and to erect the goalposts in the proper places. The largest crowd in Circleville history is expected to witness the contest.

The entire Tiger squad with 22 of the youths in new uniforms went through a brisk hour's drill Thursday evening before a large gathering of interested spectators. The practice consisted only of signal drills, passing and kicking.

Little has been heard of the

RED BIRDS LOSE, SO DO MUDHENS IN LOOP SERIES

The Minneapolis Millers had a one-game lead in their bracket of the American Association playoffs today after defeating the champion Columbus Red Birds 3-2 to win the third game of the series.

Two runs in the eighth inning broke up the game which had been a pitching duel between Max Lanier of Columbus and Jim Henry of Minneapolis.

Although Toledo out-slugged Milwaukee, the Mud Hens lost 11-4 to drop one game behind the Brewers in their playoff series. Toledo batters had no trouble hitting Pitcher Al Johnson, but they could not maneuver men into scoring positions.

The winners got 11 hits; Toledo 14. Dizzy Trout, Al Cohen, Emmett Nelson and Vic Sorrell all had a share of the pitching that lost to the Brewers.

Groveport outfit and its strength. Last year when the Tigers won from the Franklin county aggregation Coach Fred Hamrick declared that his team in 1937 would be a tough one. Groveport has always featured wide sweeps ending with laterals, so fans trekking to the field this evening can expect plenty of open football because that is the type of offensive Coach Landrum is stressing this Fall.

The starting lineup for the Tigers will average 161.3 pounds with the backs figured at 142.25 and the line at 172 plus. The average weight of the 22 boys wearing the new red, grey and black uniforms will be 153.2.

Lewis Cooper, hefty but speedy tackle and guard, tops the squad with 208 pounds. The lightest athlete is Bill Stebleton at 128 pounds. He is followed closely by Tom Harden at 129 and Clark Martin at 130.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 — (UP) — The Giants rode on toward the National league pennant today on momentum supplied by Cliff Melton, the rookie with the big ears.

Melton, whose angular 6-foot 5-in. frame gives him an Ichabod Crane appearance, blazed his fast one past the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday, and pitched the Giants to a 3-0 victory, enabling them to move 3½ games ahead of the Chicago Cubs. It was Melton's 17th victory against nine defeats. Only three other National league pitchers have won more games — Hubbell 19, and Warneke and Turner 18 each. Melton has beaten every club in the league except the Cubs.

Yesterday's triumph gave the Giants 16 victories in 22 games with the Pirates, completing their schedule with Pittsburgh. They moved into Cincinnati for single games today and tomorrow.

Jim Turner kept in the race for the freshman laurels when he pitched the Boston Bees to a 7-0 victory over the Cubs. It was Turner's 18th triumph and fifth shutout. He allowed only seven hits. The Bees pounded five Cub pitchers for 14 hits.

About This And That In Many Sports

Groovers to Be Tough

Tonight's the night for Circleville football fans and football players, because the lights go on at 8 o'clock and remain on long enough for the first nocturnal contest to be waged . . . Groveport will provide plenty of opposition for the Red and Black especially if Sims, who played at quarterback last year, is in the lineup . . . His name is on the eligible list, but since his father, who was school superintendent in Groveport until the start of this year, has removed to Port Clinton it is possible he has gone along, especially since state athletic rules say a lad must live with his parents. . . .

Won 13-0 Last Year

Last year the Tigers won from Groveport in the first game of the year by a 13-0 score. Don Henry going over for both touchdowns and Bob Denny scoring one point with a dropkick . . . Neither grider will be back in harness. . . .

Red Birds Through?

The Red Birds may be through playing ball in Columbus this year . . . They dropped their second in a row to the Minneapolis Millers after winning the first in the play-off . . . The first club to take four games is given the right to play the winner of the Toledo-Milwaukee series, the Brewers now leading two games to one. . . .

CONTRACT BRIDGE

CALLING FOR AN EXIT

HIGH-LOW signals do not merely constitute a request that your partner make leads of particular suits. In certain cases, you can announce that you hold a fairly high card in a suit and beg your partner to discard a higher one so that he will not be thrown into the lead by an end-play.

To South's initial 1-Heart call on this deal, North responded with 1-Spade, South rebid at 2-Hearts, North raised to 3-Hearts, and South went to 4-Hearts. Perhaps sounder bidding against keen opponents, who make good use of all unnecessary information vouchsafed, might have been a straight heart raise by North without ever showing the spades.

West led his diamond queen to the ace, and the king took the next diamond. South now ruffed a third diamond in dummy, led a trump to the ace, and took the trump return with the jack. Next came the club ace and a lead to the king. The declarer intended then to try to throw East in with his club queen, and make him pitch into the spade tenace or else offer a diamond ruff-and-discard. East, however, noticed his partner play the eight and then the deuce on the club leads, indicating a possible winner there, so discarded the queen on the second club. West therefore won the third with his jack and came through the spades, setting the contract.

REBUTTAL WITNESSES SUMMONED IN ELSEA TRIAL DEMANDING $22,786

DEFENSE RESTS AFTER CALLING 14 TO TESTIFY

Lawyers Uncertain Whether Jurors Will Receive
Case Friday

Attorneys were uncertain Friday whether the $22,786 suit of Mrs. Asa Elsea, Circleville, against the Benedict Transportation Lines, Columbus, would reach the jury Friday afternoon.

Those for the plaintiff were questioning rebuttal witnesses Friday. So far 30 witnesses have been called for the plaintiff, about half of them rebuttal witnesses. Fourteen witnesses were called by the defendant.

The trucking firm rested its case about 3 p. m. Thursday. Witnesses called by the defendant Thursday included Mrs. Beatrice Casey, Columbus; Fred Tisdale, Circleville; Harry Benedict, owner of the lines. The deposition of Harold Carpenter, truck driver was introduced.

Mrs. Elsea sued as administratrix of the estate of her husband, killed in an auto-truck collision on Route 23, about 12 miles north of here, March 13, 1936. Others killed in the crash were John McCrady and Bernard Dowden.

Rebuttal witnesses were called to attack testimony that McCrady and Elsea were alleged to have been intoxicated, the auto in which they were riding was taken without permission of the owner, about skid marks on the highway, and as to whether or not the collision was a "head-on" crash.

Among the rebuttal witnesses were Mrs. Samuel Elsea, Mrs. Asa Elsea, Gerald Hanley, Bryan Custer, Ned Buskirk, Finley Jones, Loring Valentine, Kent McMullen, the Rev. S. C. Elsea, Warren Harmon, Russell Jones, Mary McCrady, W. F. McCrady, Doris Carpenter, and George Bach.

To the other difficulties in the international settlement was added that of food supplies. Normally the settlement obtains most of its food from the area held by the Japanese. So acute was the shortage that authorities feared unrest among the Chinese populace unless more food could be obtained.
